

Suzanne Petri

is a vibrant and versatile cabaret artist who takes her audiences on fantastic journeys of musical storytelling.

Suzanne Petri has established herself as one of the Windy City's premier entertainers. From stage to screen, from nightclubs to concert halls such as Millennium Park's Jay Pritzker Pavilion, Drury Lane Water Tower, Davenport's, Maxim's, Katerina's, and Toulouse on the Park, Suzanne has performed to SRO crowds. The nationally recognized cabaret diva, Suzanne has been featured in the Chicago Humanities Festival and the Mabel Mercer Foundation's Cabaret Conventions at New York's Jazz at Lincoln Center and Chicago's Park West. Her one-woman cabaret shows have won rave reviews, critical acclaim and honors, including the After Dark Award for Outstanding Cabaret Artist and Chicago Cabaret Professionals' Gold Coast Award for Cabaret Excellence. A Jefferson Award nominated actor and ensemble member of American Blues Theater, she has appeared on dozens of Chicago stages including The Goodman Theatre, Steppenwolf, Chicago Dramatists, Victory Gardens and Northlight as well as three recordings of her music, voiceovers, films and television. PRESS

"One of Chicago's great singers." Rick Kogan, WGN Radio

"The screen icon's persona is beautifully captured by Chicago actress and cabaret favorite Suzanne Petri in her "An Evening with Marlene" show." Bill Zwecker, Chicago Sun Times

"Petri cut to the core of this music, capturing much of the melancholy and world weariness that helped make Dietrich a global star...A savvy stage performer, Petri knows how to conjure drama with an expression of sorrow on her face, how to raise spirits by strolling exuberantly through the crowd. As a musician, Petri can arch a phrase for poignant effect or bend a pitch downward to evoke a touch of pathos." Howard Reich, Chicago Tribune

"Particularly outstanding... the scintillating Petri, whose throaty voice and marvelous acting worked to perfection." Hedy Weiss, Chicago Sun-Times

"As when she stopped the show during March's Chicago Cabaret Convention ... audiences can always count on Suzanne Petri to entertain with style and artistry." Jeff Rossen, Cabaret Scenes

"Suzanne Petri has established herself as an actress who can handle classy and brassy with equal ease." (Critic's Choice) Albert Williams, The Chicago Reader
